BOWL Magazine headed to the Web

Organizations across the country and around the world are changing their operational ways these days, and NCAUSBCA is no different. In recent years, several of its services, including final averages forms and updated final averages throughout the season, along with various award forms, have been made available online to the delight of many members.

Now, in its most significant move, BOWL Magazine, in its 45th season of serving as the association's official publication, will in November begin offering its issue on the Internet in place of the printed version. The one exception this season will be a February/March edition prior to association's championship tournaments.

A link to the current and past online versions will be displayed on what is expected to be a revised ncausbca.org. Every effort will be made to make this same link available to members whose E-mail addresses are on file at the association office; therefore, the publication will have the opportunity to be viewed by bowlers, for instance, who rarely, if ever, go by the control counter during their league sessions or who were simply unaware of the magazine.

With an online publication, bowlers can be assured of viewing the latest issue of BOWL Magazine, and it will eliminate the problem of centers running out of copies.

Of course, by being online, BOWL Magazine will have a potential audience of bowlers and other Web surfers from all corners of the globe. Nevertheless, BOWL Magazine will continue be a local association publication, with its primary focus the members of NCAUSBCA and its related events.

To members without Internet access at their homes, a visit to nearly any public library will permit them to view the online publication. Members who still wish to receive standard black-and-white printed pages of this season's online publications can have them mailed to their residence by sending a check for $7.50 payable to "NCAUSBCA" to BOWL Magazine, 9315 Largo Drive West, Suite 110, Largo, MD 20774-4762.

SUZY WILSON PROVES YOU'RE NEVER TOO OLD
 TO BOWL—AND BOWL WELL

Just days before her 90th birthday, Suzy Wilson of Falls Church rolled a 175 all-spare game in the Owls Club summer league at Bowl America Shirley. Wilson, a former duckpinner who has bowled tenpins for four years, last season averaged 140 in the Owls Club league and had a 158 average for 15 games in the Go Getters league. She scored a 501 series less than two years ago and earned a "200" award pin during her second season for her 208 game in the Westwood Country Club league at Bowl America Fairfax. The right-hander uses two bowling balls -- a 10-pound reactive for her first ball that she "hopes goes in the pocket," and, if necessary, her original eight-pound "straight ball" for her spares, especially those on the left side of the lane. "I think bowling is good for you, and it gives me some exercise that I enjoy doing," she said.

MEMBERSHIP DEPT.

The following individuals recently were suspended from membership and office in USBC: Darrell Angles, Carl J. Garneau, and Steve A. Melvin of Manassas, Brittany Gorham of Woodbridge, Stephanie H. Gugino of Haymarket, Va., and Charles E. Thompson II of Bowie. ... Meanwhile, Willie Beverly of Bowie, Ronald A. Clements of Woodbridge, and Scott Seabolt of Lorton have been fully reinstated to membership.

FOR THE RECORD

What follows are updates, where applicable, to the NCAUSBCA 2009-2010 Annual Averages book and/or bowl.com: Charles Durant III: 157 average for 96 games in the Royal Rollers Mixed league at Parkland. ... In the Wednesday Nite Mixed league at Esperanza Lanes, Delbert J. Nusbaum Jr. averaged 200 for 93 games, and Delbert J. Nusbaum III averaged 180 for 18 games. ... Scott Wallace: 174 for 88 games in the Goddard Wednesday Men's at The Lanes Fort Meade. ... Kaci Spearman: 121 for 87 games in the Saturday Night Mixers at Bowl America Shirley. ... Additions: Antonio Harris averaged 196 for 48 games in the Settles Socialites league at Riverdale Bowl.

Renée "Creeper" Graham of Seat Pleasant (left, 656 series) and Felicia "Star★" Thorpe of Temple Hills (630) won the $1,700 top prize of the Diamond Doubles division of the 2010 United States Bowling Congress Women's Championships that was conducted in El Paso, Texas. The pair's 1,484 total topped by one pin another area duo, Jacqueline Wilson of Oxon Hill and Clinton's Amber (Casey) Bell. Meanwhile, the team of Marina Akers-Epps of Waldorf and Julie Blair of Upper Marlboro tied for eighth place.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE • ROBERT ASHLEY III

Verify the integrity of your league account, not just the balance

The new season is upon us, which means it is time for all of us to plan and prepare for our winter leagues. Hopefully, that has included a review of last season of what went well, what didn't go so well, and how to improve upon those things.

As an active league secretary going into my 21st consecutive season, I have always commiserated with my fellow secretary-treasurers on the things that have to be done throughout the course of the year. This past season also marked my second consecutive as league president that became an eye-opening experience when performing my duties as outlined in USBC Rule 102c. So my first column as your association president will be directed primarily towards league presidents and how vital their role is.

USBC Rule 102c(6) states that you, as president, must personally verify the league's bank balance monthly. My experiences last season told me it is not enough to just verify the balance; the integrity of the league account also needs to be verified.

You are probably asking what it means to verify the integrity of your account. There are any number of metrics that can be used. To give you an idea, I put forth the following questions based on my own experiences:

➤ Are you, as president, receiving statements and other financial correspondence directly from your financial institution? Rule 102c(3), which requires you to arrange to have an account set up in a recognized banking institution, was amended at this year's convention to further stipulate that the statements be sent directly to the president.

➤ Is correspondence from your financial institution received in a timely manner? Do statements arrive in the mail within seven days of the date published on the statement itself? Are you receiving returned checks within 10 days of the date of deposit? Does your financial institution offer statements via electronic mail, or "e-statements," which allow you to verify the account even sooner? It is vital that you review that statement in a timely manner each and every month to ensure all transactions are listed and immediately investigate when an expected deposit is missing.

➤ Does your financial institution provide the opportunity to earn interest on funds in your account? Most leagues

MANAGER'S MEMO • RAY BROTHERS

Tournament schedule is somewhat different this season

We are trying something different this year with the Women's Championship Tournament and the Open Championship Tournament: They will be conducted during the same time period at the same centers. Our current plans are to alternate each group on each weekend. The team event will be held at AMF Annandale, and the singles and doubles will be held at AMF Capital Plaza the last weekend of March and the first three weekends of April. This is an experiment to better serve the bowlers.

Meanwhile, the Youth Championship Tournament will be held at Bowl America Woodbridge the first two weeks in March.

Instead of a BVL Kickoff this year, we will conduct a mixed tournament with some funds going to BVL. The tournament will be held at Bowl America Fairfax the first two weekends of November and will consist of a team event of two men and two women and a mixed doubles event in the first year. If the first year is successful, we will expand it in the future.

League applications are being received at a pretty good pace. Those we receive first will be processed first.

As a reminder, the dues for the current season have not changed:

➤ Adult dues are $20. "Local dues" are $9 for those certified through local associations in Virginia, and $10 for those certified through local associations outside Virginia.

➤ Youth dues are $17 for a regular membership and $5 for those who bowl in a 12-week league.

If I have confused you, call me at the office, and together we will figure out the problems.

With the new schedule of only publishing two copies of the magazine this season, you can still read my column online at ncausbca.org.

I hope all of you enjoyed your summer vacation and are now ready to put some hurtin' on the bowling pins. Most centers put in new pins for winter, and they have a flat bottom that makes them harder to knock down, so bear down.

E-mail Ray Brothers at execdir@ncausbca.org.

NCAUSBCA Hall of Famer Walt Steinsiek, who was profiled by Jim Goodwin in the April/May 2010 issue and whose cartoons and illustrations appeared in this publication for over 35 years, died June 27 at age 83, just hours before he was to fly to International Bowl Expo in Las Vegas, where he was to be the surprise recipient of the John Davis Award for his contributions to bowling. Area bowler Ralph Grubb, whose "DEADWOOD" cartoons also have appeared on these pages, offered the illustration at left "purely as a tribute to Mr. Steinsiek," whose work he enjoyed over the years. Steinsiek liked nothing more than to see bowlers enjoying his cartoons, so as our tribute, a few of them appear on page 19.

Induction & Dinner Celebration to occur October 2 at Holiday Inn Eisenhower Metro Center in Alexandria

Susan M. "Susie" Ryan was born October 22, 1963 in Arlington to Ray and Maxine Brothers. Little did she know that her life would revolve so much around this wonderful game of bowling. It wasn't long until Susie and her sister, Shari Brothers, found themselves spending their toddler years watching mom and dad bowl, anxious to join in the fun.

The little saying, "a family that bowls together never splits," is so true to her family: She met her husband, Mike, 30 years ago while bowling in the Junior 600 Club Tournament, and all three of their children, Nick (age 24), David (18), and Missy (20), enjoy the game as well.

Susie finally got to start bowling at age 10 in a Saturday morning youth league at Bowl America Duke. On the weekends, there was only life in the bowling center. She was secretary for the "Juniors" league on Saturday morning at the age of 12. Everything was done by hand back then—no computer help.

By the age of 14, life after school included bowling in two leagues a week and practicing. After the Saturday morning youth league, it was on to the Vir-Mar District Scratch Travel league, for which she was secretary. This job included scheduling the bowling centers for the league and negotiating prices. Sunday only left the Junior Virginia Masters League at Seminary Lanes.

Between ages 10 and 15, summertime found her competing for gold, silver, and bronze medals in the U.S. Youth Games in Boston; New Haven, Conn.; Detroit; and Springfield, Mass. Her love for bowling became evident during these youth years.

Becoming a great bowler was her greatest desire, but it wasn't long until convincing adults to respect the youth bowlers became one of her goals. Learning rules and helping other youth bowlers led to her becoming a Certified Youth Bowling Coach of the American Junior Bowling Congress (AJBC).

Some of her other accomplishments include:

- Served as a youth director on the AJBC board of directors and was on several committees that enabled youth to become recognized and grow in their bowling accomplishments.
- Served as president and secretary of the Junior 600 Club. In this capacity, she managed its tournaments—everything from reserving the bowling center to sanctioning the tournament to handing out the awards. Adults only supervised back then.

- Volunteered her time as a youth to help with the Vir-Mar District Championship Tournament and was one of the original members of the Junior Leaders in the area.
- Held Bowl America Duke's Girl's Youth record of 715 series bowled at age 16 in an after-school league.
- Won the B Division of 1983 Vir-Mar District Scratch Invitational. This was done during a time when girls were just starting to compete in scratch events against the boys.
- Appeared in WDCAWBA's Top 10 Ranking in the 1993-1994 and 1994-1995 seasons.
- Captured the all-events and scratch (758 series) and handicap singles titles in the 1994 WDCAWBA City Tournament.
- Competed with the women pro bowlers in Baltimore.
- Won Virginia State Queens Tournament at Fort Belvoir in June 2005.
- Served as a director on the NCAUSBCA board.
- High game / series / average: 300 / 782 / 216.

To help her children get the same exposure to the game that she had, Susie coached the pee wees at General Bowl's Annandale Bowling Center for a year and then became the youth director for the whole program for three years. Susie had and still has a great rapport with youth of all ages and is responsible for giving them, as well as their parents, a great learning experience.

It was during this time that her own children grew to love the game, too, along with many others. She continues to let everyone in the bowling community know that the youth bowlers are their stars of tomorrow, and they should get the same respect from centers as adults.

Susie continued her efforts in promoting youth bowling by putting together Junior Gold qualifying leagues. Youth from all over the area come to Bowl America Shirley to bowl for scholarships and Junior Gold spots in the Junior Gold league. She was awarded a Certificate of Appreciation in recognition of outstanding dedication as a USBC Junior Gold Qualifying Event Coordinator for the 2009 USBC Junior Gold Championships held in Indianapolis.

As league coordinator and youth director at Bowl America Shirley, Susie is responsible for over 2,000 bowlers a year. She continues to help adults as well as youth in any way she can and always with a smile.

Susan M. Ryan's continued dedication to the sport of bowling and her overwhelming desire to serve the area's bowlers make her an outstanding addition to the NCAUSBCA Hall of Fame.

20 QUESTIONS

Zo Isaac

Zo Isaac, a 38-year-old right-hander from Landover, Md., established a new NCAUSBCA series record when he tallied 898 on games of 299-299-300 August 5 in the Top Dollar Trios summer league at AMF Capital Plaza. His 34-strike performance with his 15-pound, five-ounce Ebonite Game Plan topped the association's previous high mark of 887 by Erv Raines III at Bowl America Bull Run on February 9, 2009.

Nearly a month after his special evening, Isaac, a sales associate for Goodyear who started his bowling career in 1990 with his mother in a commercial league at Capital Plaza, spoke about his accomplishment and other topics with editor Bob Cosgrove.

What had been your previous bowling highlight?

Using a bowling ball that was 20 years old [during] the last winter league to shoot two 300s and two 299s with it. It was a Sun Storm.

How many 300s and 800s had you earlier rolled?

I think this was [perfect game] number seven. This was my fifth or sixth 800.

Have you ever participated in a Sport Bowling league or in PBA regional competition?

No. I do a lot of scratch tournaments, and I've done some Sport shot tournaments before.

Did you sense anything during practice that August 5 could be a special evening?

Actually, leading up to that evening, we were coming in fighting for second place because the first-place team had locked up the league. In practice, every ball I threw was [in the] pocket and struck.

What were your thoughts after the first 299 game?

I was happy because I won the pot, of course! But I was frustrated because Capital Plaza has always been a house that I've struggled in; I've always wanted to shoot 300 in there. I left a 7-pin—a solid 7-pin. What made me push harder was that the anchorman on the other team and I both had the front eight. He tapped and went [2]79, and my team only wins by five pins by me striking out. It was close, but they were fighting for second place, too.

So the second game, I look up, and it's the big game pot, and I'm looking around, and I see a couple of people had already posted [2]60-something, and one guy had posted [2]69. I look up and I didn't even realize what I was doing, I was that much locked in. And before you know it, I'm on the front eight again. And when I get up there [for the final shot], I leave a 10-pin with a messenger, and now I was kinda like going off, I'm like, Who shoots [2]99 back-to-back?

Honestly, shooting 898 really hit me like a few weeks ago when they presented me the banner at Capital Plaza. It really hit me then.

So people were like, "Hey man, great game again, man." I had one guy, I don't even recall who it was, "You shoot anything over 200, you have 800." I'm like, I already had 800, I just want to shoot 300 at [Capital Plaza].

So my teammate, Warren Wiggins, told me to stay focused and that I was throwing the ball very well. And I told him, "If I get a start like this, I'm gonna finish."

And I finished! And when I finished, I yelled, "I finally shot 300!"

Stefanie Dyson had been giving play-by-play on Facebook: He's got the front three, front four, front five.... I didn't know at the time, but when I said, "I finally shot 300!" she said, "Zo, you just shot 898!" And it hadn't even really clicked what I had done.

And to this day, to be honest, every time I walk in [Capital Plaza] and see the [898 banner] and think about it, it's phenomenal. I've had people tell me, "I thank you for letting me be allowed to witness that." Now that's not something you're going to see everyday.

Did you feel pressure during the final game?

I did ... I did a little bit. But I tried to maintain my composure. I sat down and didn't talk to nobody. I did the same routine: I got up, threw my ball, shook hands, and sat down. That was it. I just took deep breaths and tried to stay focused.

Did everyone around you stop bowling?

I kind of realized it, but Poo [Taylor], who worked in the [World Class] pro shop, just kept coming down every frame, and by the sixth frame, he just so happened to tell me he was on a 290 pace, and I recall telling him to keep it going. And at this time, that's when I really realized that half the league was behind my lanes watching, along with Gary Parsons.

He was commenting to someone else—I don't recall the guy's name—but he was talking, and you could hear every comment—"Great shot!" "Smash the hole!" He was giving me good confidence on the shots, so at that point, that's when I could really realize what I was doing. And it really kicked in in the tenth frame, my first ball.

When I got up there, I was like, Okay, I've got to finish this time because already I've shot two 299s. It was a crazy feeling—crazy feeling.

I really felt it because this time I had people saying things to me, but I can't remember what they were saying—people were just talking. But I'm so locked in to what I'm doing.

Honestly, shooting 898 really hit me like a few weeks ago when they presented me the banner at Capital Plaza. It really hit me then. I was bowling Summer Tour finals, and I throw the first two balls and I look up, and everybody's behind my lanes watching.

It's a good feeling when people come up to you and take a picture with me and get an autograph. It feels good that you've got that type of support because, like I said, you might see somebody shoot 300 or 800, but to shoot that type of number....

A guy called me because I left off my ring size on my award [application] form, and he said, "What impressed you most?" And I said, "Thinking that I shot the 300 the last game. Looks like I never gave up!"

Has anything interesting happened to you as a result of the series?

Ebonite has contacted me, and they're supposed to send me some equipment. Gary Parsons has really been supportive, petitioning Ebonite for me. AMF gave me a couple of gift cards and free game passes.

I think just putting that banner on the wall, just seeing my name up there, means a lot to me, knowing that I'm going to bowl in that [Bottomliners] league for 36 weeks, and every Thursday I'm going to look up and see my name—just knowing that's history.

How has this performance changed your own view of yourself as a bowler?

My confidence level is back totally. I was at the point where I felt like I just didn't have it no more—I was just bowling just to bowl. Right now, every ball I throw, I have that killer instinct in me, like I refuse to go down.

What is the strongest part of your game?

Bowling on dry lanes because my ball speed is anywhere from 19 to 21 miles per hour.

What do you need to work on the most?

Bowling on challenging conditions, especially heavy oil because my ball speed kills me sometimes.

Has anyone helped you with your game?

Warren Wiggins. This year, I bowled with Getting polish without polish; getting equipment on the cheap, and more

Q. Can I get a polish on a ball without using polish?

A. Yes, it is possible to polish the ball without using polish. First, you need a ball spinner, then you can use 2000 wet/dry sandpaper or a 2000 abralon pad and then take it up to 4000. This will put a finish on the ball that will look like you used polish and will make the ball go longer because of the very smooth finish.

Q. I have bowled now for about three years and have always used only one ball. My bowling buddies are telling me I need more than one ball to be competitive. I can't afford to spend too much, so how can I get more equipment on the cheap?

A. You can build an arsenal for most league conditions with three bowling balls:

➤ One reactive urethane solid with a low rg will be for medium to heavy oil.

➤ One reactive pearl ball with a higher rg for drier lanes.
➤ One polyester ball for spares.

These three balls will cover most conditions you will encounter during a league season. You can save some money by asking your pro shop operator for balls that came out last season. He might have some old stock for a good price. You can also ask if there are any used balls that have been plugged. Plugged balls work fine for the short term—a season or two.

Q. I have been having problems with sticky approaches, so I put some baby powder on the sole of my shoes, and this works well. My problem is everyone else was upset with me, saying I was making the approaches too slippery, and I want to keep my friends. What can I do?

A. Do me a favor and never use powder or any other product that you have to apply to the sole of the shoe to slide; this makes the approach dangerous for everyone else. It makes the approach abnormally slippery, and I have seen people get hurt because of the use of powders.

Instead, invest in a pair of bowling shoes that have either interchangeable slide soles or slide cleats. You can get information on them from your pro shop. If you need a temporary solution, ask the pro shop for a slide sock. This goes over the slide sole of the shoe and works well without bothering the other bowlers.

Q. I've looked everywhere for an answer to this question without any luck: Does one's Positive Axis Point (PAP) change over time, style, and experience?

A. I asked my friend, Alex Romanowsky, renowned ball driller and owner of blockbusterbowling.com, and his answer is yes. If you change the way you throw the ball, and your axis of rotation or axis tilt changes, your PAP will change. So if you have gone through any changes in your game, you might want to recheck your PAP just to be sure.

Q. I am looking for another ball. I have a couple of solid reactive bowling balls, a particle, and one entry level pearl. I think I need a pearl with more reaction to fill out my arsenal. What, if any, would you suggest?

A. I don't do this in my column very often, but it answers your question. I just received a ball from Roto Grip called the Mutant Cell Pearl. It came out just after the winter season ended, so many of you have not seen it or heard of it, but you will.

I think this is the best pearl I have ever had. This ball goes longer through the heads but reads the mid-lane like a solid. The reaction in the back is very strong but not as angular as pearls can sometimes be. I have not had a ball in a very long time that carries as well as this ball.

I bowled this summer in a house that leaves me 10-pins sometimes by the dozen in a night. With the Mutant Cell Pearl in four outings, I had sets of 692, him for the first time, and Warren gave me a great tip, telling me about getting to the line: If I could stay down, get down lower, and throw the ball hard at the line, I could project my shot better. And doing that, my game has really improved. So that's one tip I've taken and used to my advantage.

My confidence level is back totally. I was at the point where I felt like I just didn't have it no more—I was just bowling just to bowl. Right now, every ball I throw, I have that killer instinct in me, like I refuse to go down.

How do you rate yourself among bowlers in the area?

I put myself up there with the elite.

What do you say to those who might question your putting yourself among the elite players when you say you struggle with oily lane conditions?

I put myself with the elite for the reason that I'm never completely out of a tournament. I might in the beginning struggle slowly, but by the first game I catch on.

Now when I say struggle on oil with my ball speed, a lot of times, the conditions that we play on, they're not really heavily oiled. So I make a quick adjustment, but I don't completely lock myself out.

Now I may fail at a tournament because of bad spare shooting, but my ball speed ... that's my game. I can never take that away from my game because my ball speed has been with me for 20 years, and I don't think that's ever gonna change.

So I've been successful with it, just as well as I've been unsuccessful with it. But I've been more successful than unsuccessful.

What area players do you admire the most?

Greg Turner. Of course, Bobby Hall [II]; I'm really proud of what he did, making the PBA [Exempt] Tour.

Greg Turner, to me, I say, I exclude Bobby because of what he has done, I put Greg Turner ... I think Greg Turner is like, to me, one of the best bowlers in the area—that's to me, personally.

Also, Ricky Henderson, a new up-and-comer, a strong bowler, and Howard Ball [Jr.], for one of the young kids.

How important would you say bowling is in your overall life?

[I'd rate it a] "7"—next to my kids, a daughter, soon to turn 17, and a son, 11.

What gives you pleasure in bowling?

Being competitive to myself, knowing that I gave it my all, and I'm looking forward to the next night of league—to go in there and do better than what I did before.

Do you set goals every time?

I set my standards very high; I'm very hard on myself. Like when I shot the second 299, I was really hard on myself because I left a 10-pin and a 7-pin [before]. Everybody else was trying to keep me calm, but I was hard on myself because of that. But I was in control.

What do you do besides bowl?

I love working on cars. I have a 19-month-old Cane Corso; I put a lot of time in with him—that's my dog. Other than that, there's my kids.

What is your next bowling goal?

Shoot 900! But I really am satisfied.

require prepayment of the final two or three weeks of the schedule, and there are always people who pay far in advance, some the entire season. The funds will sit in the account for several months, so make that work in the league's favor.

➤ Do you have immediate access to disburse your funds, through a checking account or getting a bank draft upon visiting your local branch, when it comes time to submit USBC certification fees and added membership cards throughout the year? Fees for initial certification and added cards must come from the league account, not an officer's personal bank account, and in a timely manner—30 days from the league start date or when a new member bowls his/her first series. Furthermore, depositing league funds into a personal account is a violation of USBC Rule 17b(4), regardless of the reason.

Were you able to answer "Yes" to all the questions? If you could not, then reviewing the integrity of your vehicle for banking may be in order. Take the time now to review your account parameters and explore all possible options to ensure it is working in your league's favor.

As president, you are charged with ensuring that the best interests of the league are met. Be proactive. Get those required committees appointed quickly, and make sure they understand their responsibilities so they can hit the ground running. Talk with your secretary-treasurer on a regular basis to ensure his/her duties are understood, especially when it comes to the finances for which you are ultimately responsible. This is especially important for new secretary-treasurers who may feel overwhelmed. Get in touch with your NCAUSBCA lane representative if you have any questions; we are here to help.

Feel free to contact me with any questions or comments. In closing, I wish you all a prosperous 2010-2011 bowling season. May you strike out often and be spared of any splits.

The ball goes through the heads with ease, reads the lanes great, holds on the oil, and finishes hard in the dry. I have made this my benchmark ball and never have had a pearl in my bag I could do that with.

I recommend you give this one a try; you will be amazed.

Q. I am trying to start a collection of bowling memorabilia. Do you know where I might find some things to start my collection?

A. I have a small collection myself; old bowling materials and equipment is a fun hobby. I have a wooden ball that had leather thumb and finger inserts in it. I have old wood pins, old games, clocks, instruction books, and high-top shoes.

I used to find some items on eBay, but that source is drying up; I have not had much luck on there lately. Still, it is a place to look because you may still find things there from time to time.

Here is another idea: We could do this right here in my column. If you have any old bowling-related items you would like to sell, send me an E-mail. If you are looking for items to buy, E-mail me and I will try to put you together.

We can start this on a small scale to see if there is any interest. If there is a lot of interest, I could start a memorabilia Web site for bowling items only.

I will start this right now: I have an extra pair of men's size 8 high-top bowling shoes in great shape, circa 1930s or 40s. I would be interested in selling them for someone's collection.

Send me an E-mail and we can get together. This could be fun for all of us collectors. My address is askbob@clearwire.net.
