BWAA launches Virtual Youth Challenge Tournament

Proceeds will benefit Pezzano Scholarships, S.M.A.R.T. and Y.E.S. funds; military kids are eligible

After weeks of testing, the Bowling Writers Association of America (BWAA) recently launched a new tournament for youth bowlers. BWAA is teaming up with VirtualTournaments.com to create an allnew ongoing weekly tournament called the Virtual Youth Challenge, where youth bowlers from ages 8-20 with verified averages anywhere in the world can have fun while earning scholarship awards toward higher education.

The Virtual Youth Challenge is designed to encourage young bowlers to participate in league bowling, and it gives them an extra incentive to improve their skills to earn scholarship awards for the very affordable entry fee of $5. From every entry fee, $3 will be paid in SMART (Scholarship Management and Accounting Reports for Tenpins) scholarship awards, $1 will go to the BWAA Pezzano Scholarship program (which benefits youth bowlers studying communications), 50 cents goes to bowling's Youth Education Services (YES) Fund, and 50 cents goes to the administration of the event.

"We are very proud to launch this new event for youth bowlers," said BWAA President Jim Goodwin. "Our Pezzano Scholarship Committee chair Joan Romeo and our Virtual Tournament Committee chair Brandy Padilla have been working together with Scott Scriver at VirtualTournaments.com for months to write the rules and put this all together. We are very excited about the long-term potential of this event, and we encourage everyone in the industry to get behind this effort to boost youth bowling."

For more information on the showcase lanes, including pricing options, click here.

FEMALE SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE

Courtney Hopkins, head bowling coach at Salem International University, announced she is looking for female bowlers for the 2012-2013 and 2013-2014 seasons and that scholarships are available. Hopkins notes her team is young but recently had the opportunity to bowl against the majority of the top 25 teams in tournament competition. "I am building the program, and our team is getting recognized by other teams for our drive and willingness to improve, but we still have a long way to go," she wrote. The school is located in the Appalachian mountains of in West Virginia. Girls interested in furthering their bowling careers may contact Coach Hopkins at her office (304/326-1472) or via her cell phone (812/629-0583). The recruiting questionaire is available for review.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE • JANE ANDREWS

Fullfillment delays delay arrival of many membership cards

As we embark onto this new year, I trust and hope your season is running smoothly in large part because your league officers are fulfilling their duties.

I want to let you know that some USBC (United States Bowling Congress) members are experiencing a delay in receiving their 2011-2012 membership cards. This season, USBC is including a customized bag tag with membership cards as an enhanced benefit. Unfortunately, the design change caused unexpected fulfillment delays outside of USBC's control.

If necessary, you can print a temporary card from the bowl.com Web site, so you may wish to check to make sure it's there: don't wait to find out that it has not been submitted. Verify your team's stats and averages, and make sure you are fully vested with your league and all it does for you, the bowler ... and remember, if all else fails, we at the association are here for you.

Best Wishes for the Best Bowling Season Ever and as always, Good Luck and Good Bowling.

E-mail Jane Andrews

Bowlers at AMF Alexandria raised nearly $500 in support of BVL (The Bowlers to Veterans Link). During the week of November 13-19, NCAUSBCA Directors Karen Jost and Ron Holton conducted a ball raffle for a ball of choice donated by the Sports Plus/Carmen Don Pro Shop. The winner, Georgette Palmer (right), just returned to bowling in the Morning Stars league following her retirement from work. League Secretary/Treasurer Joanne Kreiser volunteered to ensure tickets were available to the league, and President Pat Suarez (left) sold the winning ticket. Congratulations to Georgette, and thank you to all bowlers at AMF Alexandria for your participation!

CHALLENGE, from page 3

In the Virtual Youth Challenge, bowlers will compete using their league scores in two age divisions: 8-12 and 13-20. Only youth bowlers not participating in adult leagues are eligible, and all averages will be verified before winners become official each week.

The Virtual Youth Challenge is a simple "Highest Over Average" event with a handicap of 90 percent from the highest average entered each week in each division. One of every five entries each week in each division will earn scholarship awards that will be deposited in their SMART account within 30 days.

Aside from the great benefit of being able to earn scholarship awards without travel expense, young bowlers with military families around the world will be able to participate from the hundreds of centers on military bases across the globe.

For complete rules and information, visit the Web site VirtualYouthChallenge .com or look for news and information at bowlingwriters.com.

The Bowling Writers Association of America (BWAA) is the world's most prominent media and communications bowling organization. Since 1934, BWAA has been a primary industry source for bowling news and information for the global sport and business of bowling.

MANAGER'S MEMO • RAY BROTHERS

Open Championship entries begin arriving

I hope your holidays were great and Santa brought you everything you wanted. In the office, we are just about caught up with everything and are waiting for the mid-season league applications.

Entries for the Open Championship Tournament are starting to be received. I hope all of you enter a team and participate in the other events. At the request of some of the high-average bowlers, the scratch divisions have been enhanced, and the prize money will be doubled.

The singles and doubles squad of April 22 at 9:30 a.m., is full, so please do not ask to bowl at that time. The sooner you send your entry, in the better the chance of getting the times you want.

The team event will be held at Bowl America Shirley, and the doubles and singles will take place at Bowl America Woodbridge. If you have questions, call me at the office or send me an E-mail, and I will give you an answer.

We are collecting for the BVL campaign and ask you to be generous because of all the wounded and maimed service personnel returning from the current wars. If no one has been by your league, call your lane representative and if you don't have his/her number, contact me, and I will give it to you. If you have access to an average book, most phone numbers are listed there.

If any of you have a rules question, call me, and I will answer it in this column so everyone will know the answer if the same situation occurs in your league.

I hope everyone has a great 2012.

TOMMY McLANE

Tommy McLane, a 35-year-old left-hander from Lusby, Md., earned the top spot in the association men's ranking for the 2010-2011 season with a 231.8388 composite average. In 2007-2008, he placed third.

He scored a scorching 833 series in NCAUSBCA's 2011 Open Championship Tournament to win the scratch singles title and finish second in handicap singles. Having rolled three 800s and an equal number of perfect games thus far this season, he certainly is a threat to revisit the "Top 10."

McLane, a parts specialist at Rosenthal Jaguar at Tysons Corner, recently responded to questions posed by editor Bob Cosgrove.

How did you get started with bowling?

I grew up in a bowling alley. My parents actually met at Rinaldi's Riverdale Bowl. I grew up in Marlow Heights, in Clinton, but I've been bowling my whole life. My mom started teaching me when I was probably three or four because she was a coach back then.

How many 300 games and 800 series have you bowled?

Quite a few, I know. I think I'm up to 15 or 16 800 series, and I want to say 25 or so 300s.

What is your highest series?

My highest series is 852 about three years ago at Lord Calvert.

Were you surprised to do as well as you did in last season's NCAUSBCA Open Championship Tournament?

Yes, I was, really. I really liked [AMF] Capital Plaza, and I thought I carried pretty good there. I was happy that I did what I did. I've done a couple of tournaments there.

What other tournaments have you won? Nothing major. I won some Sunday night events at Waldorf a couple of times. I've cashed in a couple of the Money Bags tournaments. At the Lilac Tournament last year, I won one of the men's singles [lanes] 1 and 2, and it was pretty much packed behind me. [McLane tallied 231 in Game 3 for an 831 series.]

How do you normally handle pressure situations?

Honestly, when it comes to bowling, it doesn't usually bother me. I try not to focus on it. Tuesday night is the night I get to bowl with my dad and my brother, so I try to just spend the time talking to them. I don't focus too much on what's going on out on the lanes.

Who has helped you with your game?

My brother, Mike McLane, helps me out a lot. The person locally would be G.G. [George G.] Jenifer, who helps me out with adjustments and keeps my mind right.

Do you keep up with all of the changes taking place in bowling equipment or do you just do what others decide is best for you and your game?

I spend a lot of time online. The only ball I've ever thrown is Hammer. I check their Web site, and they E-mail me when new balls are coming out and stuff like that.

If it's something that I want, then I deal with the guys at Spare Time [Sports] in Waldorf. If I have any questions, I'll go in there and ask Dale [Underwood], and my friend Matt [Kerzic] does a lot of research for me, too.

Matt doesn't work there, but he drills all my equipment for me. I think of all the ones he's done, I've done at least four 300s out of the box with pieces he's drilled for me, including the consecutive 300s I rolled with the Hammer Vibe [on November 8, 2011].

Are the folks at Hammer aware of this?

I tried to get on [the Hammer amateur] staff a while ago, but they told me that I don't bowl enough. I've talked to them over the years because it's been almost

I always tend to bring out the best in whoever I bowl against, and it just makes me better. I don't like to lose!

When did you realize that bowling could be something at which you could excel? Probably my late teens. My dad asked me to join a doubles league with him at Lord Calvert. He bought me my first ball when I was 18 that I can actually remember—a 3-D Offset Hammer that I still have. I believe I shot 290 with it that night! So it's been ever since then.

What leagues do you bowl regularly in this season?

Tuesday Men's at Lord Calvert, Saturday Sociables at AMF Waldorf, and I've been subbing in the Monday Night Mixers for a while at Waldorf. divisions. Of course, we won in Williamsburg a couple of times.

What were your thoughts the night of November 8, 2011 when you started your league session with two 300 games?

I was trying my best to stay calm, but I can't say I wasn't thinking about a 900. It was a pretty nice starting out with two instead of finishing with two.

My dad was doing really good at trying to get my mind off of it ... but I was thinking about it! People were watching, and I was trying not to pay attention to all the guys that were standing behind me, but we were on the wall pair on

8 BOWL Magazine • January 2012 www.ncausbca.org

20 years that I've thrown nothing but Hammer equipment.

I would love to be on staff, but it's just that my weekend is my only free time with my son and my wife, and I try not to bowl every weekend, but if there are local tournaments—and she lets me go—then I want to bowl.

Your high average last season was 241. What pressure or stress or quicker heartbeat can occur when even rolling three consecutive nine-spare frames much less an open frame—can result in a "below-average" game?

When my average is that high, I try not to focus on hitting my average. The league I did that in was in Lord Calvert, and it was an individual point system, so I try to focus on whatever I need to do to beat my opponent. Usually in that league, I was giving up 30 pins a game every night, so it was kind of hard to catch 'em.

It takes me a while to figure it out, but once I do, adjustments are probably the hardest part of my game, especially if I have a couple of spares in a row or whatever. I know because once I find it, I won't lose it, so I just have to try to focus on finding it and then beat my opponent.

on it is pretty good, and I'm pretty good on focusing on what I need to do in trying to find a shot. I like the harder patterns because there's more of a challenge.

I never talk myself about how good I am, but I know how accurate I am and how accurate I can be. If I can hit a two-board area 40 feet down the lane, I leave happy.

Was it a problem being the center of attention while carrying that average?

Yeah, there was a target on my back, to say the least, but it didn't bother me at all. I always tend to bring out the best in whoever I bowl against, and it just makes me better. I don't like to lose!

Which bowling balls do you bring to a tournament?

I usually only have a heavy oil ball, a dry lane ball, and, of course, my spare ball—> all Hammers. I take five inside, and if I need more, I always have a truck full of bowling balls, so I just run out to the car.

> I have my favorites that I always like to use. The Hammer Hawg Wild is my favorite ball by far; that's the one I used at nationals when I placed [17th] in singles [in 2006], so that ball goes with me to every tournament.

> My Hammer Razor is a ball I don't like, but it scores very well. A lot of people actually pull that ball out of my bag and put it in my hand; I just don't like to use it.

> My Hawg Wild, my Black Widow Pearl, my regular Black Widow ... of course, the new Vibe ... those are the ones that always come out of the trunk. Usually I get one of those four. All are 16 pounds.

What would you say is the strongest part of your bowling game?

Consistency. My mental focus

Tommy McLane with his wife, Laurie, and son, Chance

What part of your game do you work on the most?

My timing is what I'm always working on and trying to hit my mark. I'm pretty accurate, but it's always my goal to find a mark and hit it consecutively.

I never talk myself about how good I am, but I know how accurate I am and how accurate I can be. If I can hit a twoboard area 40 feet down the lane. Heave

I bowled the U.S. Open, and to bowl on that pattern, you have to be very accurate, very far down the lane. I think last year I averaged 190 in that tournament, and I was ecstatic when I came home because I averaged 190 in that tournament. Accuracy is what I mainly work on.

What spare combination is most challenging to you?

I really don't like the 2-4-7 because I'm forever chopping that 2-pin off. It's cost me more than a few points!

Is bowling an important part of your life or just an enjoyable activity?

It definitely important; it's a good way to make extra money for me. I try to do it as much as I can, but with my work hours—I leave at five in the morning and I'm lucky to be home by 6:30 or 7 o'clock at night—the time I get to spend with [my wife and child] is more important. But bowling ... anytime somebody asks me to sub, I'll always volunteer to sub. It's a good opportunity, and it's a good stress release for me. It gets me out with all my friends, and I can make some extra money.

How often have you bowled in PBA regional tournaments?

NCAUSBCA 2011-2012 ranking guidelines

To be considered for ranking in the 2011-2012 season, adult male and female NCAUSBCA members must:

- > Bowl in at least two NCAUSBCA-certified leagues (NCAUSBCA-certified travel leagues included) in two different bowling centers. (Sport league averages will not be considered for the rankings.)
- > Bowl a minimum of 66 games in each qualifying league.
- > Bowl in each event (team, doubles, and singles) for the current season in an NCAUSBCA Championship Tournament (Women's and/or Open tournaments). Women must bowl in the Women's Championship Tournament.

Dealing with dry lanes, slumps, and "over/under" reactions

. The lanes at the center where I bowl are very dry this year. I am using the weakest reactive ball in my arsenal, and I can't keep the ball right of the headpin. Do you have any ideas to help me?

A. If you have tried everything—moving deep inside, using hand positions to take the hit off the ball—and still nothing works, you might need another ball. Try a urethane ball, not a reactive.

For example, the Roto Grip Grenade will go much straighter but still give you some power at the pins. If that still doesn't work, go to your spare ball.

The spare ball and urethane don't hit as hard as reactive, but if you can't hit the pocket, you aren't going to score anyway. First and foremost, you have to be able to get to the pocket to score.

Q. I just got a new ball that is highly polished out of the box, and I am having trouble with it because of "over/under" reaction. It is very much a skid/flip ball the way it is rolling now. This is my nemesis—I don't handle skid/flip well. What can I do to save this ball from the trash heap?

A. Take it to the pro shop and have them sand it with at least a 2000 abralon pad. You might even need more, but start there. This will dull the surface down to a matte finish, and the ball will roll earlier.

The earlier roll will take away some of the strong reaction you are experiencing off the oil and calm down the reaction at the back-end. You will then get a midlane read, and the ball will be controllable.

. I am having trouble with my fingers and sometimes my thumb. My thumb begins to tear up when I bowl more than eight games. My fingers blister sometimes after as few as three games. I use finger grips. Can you give me some advice as to what I can do to toughen up my thumb and fingers?

A. You should not have to toughen up your thumb and fingers; bowling is not supposed to hurt your fingers or thumb. If it is, you have a bad fit.

You need to go back to either your pro shop or maybe a different pro shop and tell them what is happening and where you are hurting. It sounds like you need a pitch change in the thumb and either one size larger finger inserts or at least different texture finger inserts. Tearing skin and blistering is not normal, no matter how much you bowl.

There is pro shop out there that can fix it. Bowling should be fun, not painful.

Q. I have been in a slump for the last three weeks, so I have two questions: What causes a slump? How can a person cure a slump?

A. Going into a slump is caused by having a tough night or two. You start to try too hard to regain form, and things get worse. Your confidence suffers, and things get even worse. Then you try even harder, and your game really gets bad.

The slump happens when your conscious mind interferes with the subconscious mind. Think of it this way: When you climb up stairs, do you think about how to do it? Never, but if you tried to think of every move you need to make to climb the stairs, you would probably trip and fall.

Now the cure: About 90 percent of a slump is mental. It may have started by some small quirk in your physical game, but then it evolves into a mental block. I am of the belief that you cannot cure a slump with practice; this will just frustrate you more. Take a week or two off, and get away from the game completely. You will forget many of the problems that got the slump started.

If you are in the middle of a tournament and you feel yourself beginning to question your game, try blocking out the

I've done a few. I always desire to, but the way the Tour is now, it's just so expensive to get in the door. To do a regional for a non-member, I think it's $300 or $350, when I can just go and do a scratch tournament that has all the local guys at it for $100-and I have a much better shot at cashing with the local guys than I do with the PBA guys.

I do the [U.S.] Open every year that I can, but that one also is expensive. Last year, some good friends of mine the week before the Open offered to sponsor me to go bowl in it, which to this day I'm very appreciative to them for that. It's $500 just to get in the door, and then you have to do at least a week's hotel just for all the days that you are there, so it's an expensive trip.

Anything that I can do in a day that I can drive to, I'll make an effort to go. Anything that can get me off of the house shot, too. I love harder shots.

Do you or have you ever had any physical ailments that affect your bowling?

Every summer! Last year, I had the typical stuff—the sore elbow, the bad knee on the sliding leg. I've battled kidney stones at least every other year. Last summer, I had gallstones, and I had to get my gallbladder out. That's usually about it.

There's the soreness after taking off the summer and getting back into it; it takes me a month or so to get my body to where I can remember how to bowl. I start slow and then build up!

So you bowl very little in the summer?

I like to, but like I said, the last couple years there's always been something that happened—my gallbladder ... the year before that it was kidney stones.

Summer leagues are so short; if I have to miss the first month, I'm not gonna pay to catch up. So I'll try to do at least the Sport shot league or something like that just to stay loose at least one night a week in the summertime, and whatever tournaments come up on weekends, I'll usually do.

What do you do on evenings when you're not bowling?

[My four-year-old son, Chance] and I bowl, either on the [Nintendo] Wii or on

NCAUSBCA 2011 Senior Tournament Divisional Singles Champion

BIRTH DATE: August 27, 1946

CITY OF RESIDENCE: Waldorf, Maryland

SOCIAL STATUS: Married with four children, 11 grandchildren

EDUCATION: Eastern High School, one year under the GI Bill of Rights at Federal City College—now the University of the District of Columbia

CURRENT STATUS: I retired last year from my food clerk position at Shoppers Food Warehouse, where I worked for 11 years. I was a D.C. fireman for 25 years until I retired in 1995. I served in the U.S. Army from 1966 to 1969.

EXPECTATIONS ENTERING THE SENIOR TOURNAMENT: I always bowl to win.

THOUGHTS AFTER ROLLING A 110 GAME IN THE DOUBLES

EVENT: I did not have a great first day. I'm coming off hip replacement surgery in 2009, and I'm still trying to get my balance together. I also had knee surgery in 2010. I'm getting back to where I'm supposed to be, so my average is coming back up, too. The next day in singles, I focused [scoring a 605 series], I guess. I later was told I was on top of the board, but I didn't give winning much thought. Maybe I'd get a check.

OTHER TOURNAMENT TITLES: I won a tournament many years ago at [Bowl America] Glassmanor, but I don't recall what it was.

EARLIEST BOWLING MEMORY: My father died when I was 14, and Mr. Fisher, who lived up the street, took an interest in me and the boys in the neighborhood—back then, everybody just helped everybody out. He took a group of us over to Greenway Bowl, and that's when we started to bowl. We first bowled duckpins, then tenpins.

CURRENT BOWLING LEAGUE: Thursday Trios at Potomac Lanes

MOST EMBARRASSING BOWLING MOMENT: I bowled a 97 game at a tournament in New Jersey many years ago.

IMPORTANCE OF BOWLING IN MY LIFE (10 = most / 1 = least): I'd say "8" now. At one time it was "10," but I'm getting a little tired at times. I bowled three leagues at Bowl America Kent back in the old days.

INTERESTS OUTSIDE OF BOWLING: I watch football on TV.

VEHICLES I DRIVE: Mitsubishi Galant and Toyota Camry

MUSIC I'M INTO: Jazz and the blues

I'M PICKY WHEN IT COMES TO: Nearly everything being in its proper place

I'M PASSIONATE ABOUT: Football and cooking

FAVORITE MEAL: My ribs and potato salad

FAVORITE BEVERAGE: Water

FAVORITE TV SHOW: It used to be "Star Trek." I have all the DVDs!

FAVORITE MOVIE: I like some of Steve McQueen's movies such as The Great Escape and Bullitt.

FAVORITE PLACE I'VE VISITED: Myrtle Beach, South Carolina

NICKNAME: "Bat"—I was a really fast basketball player, and some said I was like a bat that couldn't be caught.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION I CAN NEVER KEEP: Exercise

TASK I HATE TO DO: Public speaking, such as when I'm asked to say grace before dinner

SUBJECT ABOUT WHICH I'D LIKE TO KNOW MORE: Politics

PUBLIC FIGURE I MOST ADMIRE: President Barack Obama

QUALITY I MOST ADMIRE IN MY FRIENDS: They don't curse or smoke, and we all accept one another.

THREE FAMOUS PEOPLE (LIVING OR DEAD) I'D INVITE TO MY HOME FOR DINNER: Barack Obama, Bill Clinton, and Michael Jackson

PET PEEVE: Disorder

ONE WORD THAT BEST DESCRIBES ME: Reserved

NOBODY KNOWS I'M GOOD AT: Cooking—I've got three

MY MOST IRRATIONAL FEAR: Heights—I was a fireman for 25 years, and high places never bothered me.

MY MOST TREASURED POSSESSION: My wife and family—I would die for them.

BIGGEST MISCONCEPTION ABOUT MYSELF: Some think that I'm very quiet.

STRANGE AND UNUSUAL FACT ABOUT ME: I don't like to be late for anything.

the floor because my son loves to bowl because he's growing up in a bowling alley just like I did. Every other night when I come home from work, we have a family Wii battle going on, and he usually wins, or he'll ask me to bowl on the floor, and I'll set the pins up on one side of the living room, and I'll stand on the other side, and he'll show me his form. He can emulate every PBA player that you can think of. He's very good!

What area bowlers do you most admire?

The top of the list would probably be Keni Lowe [Jr.] just because he makes an effort, and he's a very nice person, and he's always trying to get people out to bowl. He is arguably one of the best in the area, and he's an all-around nice guy.

He actually saw me out in front of my job one day, probably 10 years ago, and

Do you travel to other parts of the country to bowl in tournaments?

We go as far down as South Carolina, North Carolina, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. I've driven to Reno; I've driven to Vegas to do tournaments out there. For me, the sky is the limit.

I prefer the ones that I can drive to in five or six hours—it's less money than flying—but I'll go anywhere if I think I have a decent shot at making money. I'll definitely make an attempt to go.

What's been your biggest thrill in bowling thus far?

Shooting a 300 two months ago with my son watching—by far the best because he was actually sitting behind me when I was on the lane after I hit the 11th one. He goes, "My daddy is about to shoot 300!" He said it, quietly loud to himself! So that was a thrill.

... I would never say that I'm one of the best in the area, but against anybody, I don't give it away. You have to work to beat me, but I can hold my own—I'm good.

he stopped and turned around and came into my work to say hi. I thought that showed a lot of respect.

Any other bowlers come to mind?

Just the local guys—G.G. is number one ... Billy Blaney [III]—anybody that wants to get out and do tournaments. But those are my friends, and I always try to get out to bowl tournaments—of course, if [my wife] lets me!

How would you rate yourself among area bowlers?

That's hard for me to answer just because every time that I go to these tournaments, they've got Keni Lowe [Jr.], Chris Johnson, Bobby Hall [II]—those guys are always there. I would not put myself at their level, but I can hold my

You know, I'm pretty good, so ... I would never say that I'm one of the best in the area, but against anybody, I don't give it away. You have to work to beat me, but I can hold my own—I'm good.

What's been your most embarrassing moment on the lanes?

In a tournament at [Brunswick] Perry Hall, I fell. That was an embarrassing thing. I think it was in Game 7 of an eight-game block, and I fell right on my butt. I just went right over the foul line, and I was sitting there for a minute, and I kinda looked down because I didn't want anyone to be staring at me, even though I knew they were all looking at me. That was embarrassing, and that's about it.

What is your next bowling goal?

The immediate goal I have is to bowl the U.S. Open and make it to Friday. The only thing I'm really shooting for is I want to get an eagle in the nationals—that's probably the biggest goal that I have. •

THREE FAMOUS PEOPLE WHO ANNOY ME: House Speaker John Boehner, Sarah Palin, Michele Bachmann

NEXT RISK I WANT TO TAKE: I don't take risks. I plan ahead and play it safe.

FIRST THING I'D BUY IF I WON THE LOTTERY: A new car

IF I HAD MORE TIME: I would see my grandkids grow up.

GREATEST EXTRAVAGANCE: About three years ago for my birthday, I bought a 55-inch television.

GREATEST PERSONAL ACHIEVEMENT: Raising four kids—they all turned out good, and they all went to college.

IF I COULD BE GRANTED ONE WISH: I wish that my kids have a better future than mine.

FUTURE PLANS: Take it easy day to day PHILOSOPHY I LIVE BY: Do unto others as you would want them to do unto you.

bad feelings by remembering you haven't forgotten how to bowl, you know how, so just let it happen. Don't try to make it happen.

Q. I have been reading your articles for some years now. I have enjoyed them, but I know you are not a professional, so my question is, What qualifications do you have to write these articles?

A. The short answer is experience, so I will give you a short bio. This season marks 50 years of my bowling in scratch leagues and tournaments. In my first year, the 1960-61 season, I averaged 208. I have averaged over 200 every season since then. I will count this one, as I am averaging 216 as of this writing.

I have won a PBA regional tournament, a High Roller tournament, and many other local and regional tournaments. I also placed second in doubles in the 1965 ABC Tournament.

I hold a USBC national record for having an 800 series in five consecutive decades and hope to make it six soon. I have had 300 games and 800 series with every type of bowling ball cover stock except wood. My friends think I am so old that I must have used a wood ball. This I have to deny; I do own a wood ball but have never used one!

I started taking classes to be an instructor as far back as 1963 and currently am a USBC Bronze coach. I am a member of four Halls of Fame, including Oregon State. I am a Roto Grip amateur staff member.

I am a member of the Bowling Writers Association of America and have written this article since 1997. All of my answers come from many years of experience, and for those I don't know, I use the knowledge of some of the many friends I have met over those years. I love doing these articles; it is my way of sharing what I have learned.

My qualifications are I have been there and done that and, for now, still remember, so I hope to do this until I can't remember. So keep the questions coming.
