Delegates vote on 13 amendments at USBC Annual Meeting

Director Karen Jost elected to board

ARLINGTON, Texas – The 2012 United States Bowling Congress Annual Meeting concluded April 27 with the election of four board members and the legislative session where 13 proposals were voted on by member delegates, including the rejection of proposals related to membership dues. The USBC Convention and Annual Meeting was held over a three-day period at the Arlington Convention Center and the Sheraton Arlington Hotel.

Karen Jost

Reelected to the USBC board of directors were Libbi Fletcher of Warren, Mich., and Tamoria Adams, Charlotte, N.C. They are joined by newcomers Steven O'Brien of Mount Pleasant, S.C., and Karen Jost of Alexandria, Va., a current director for NCAUSBCA. The new board members will begin their three-year terms starting Aug. 1.

All four of the board members elected were selected on the first ballot. Candidates needed a majority of the 798 voting delegates and Fletcher received 631 votes, Adams received 499 votes, O'Brien received 495, and Jost had 449 votes. Anthony Colangelo of Helmetta, N.J., and Ronald Heppner of Seven Hills, Ohio, also were on the ballot.

Also joining the board for 2012-13 will be Dan Patterson of Buffalo, N.Y., who was chosen to be an athlete director. Patterson replaces Vernon Peterson of Lake Wales, Fla.

The 798 voting delegates (767 delegates, seven athletes, and 24 board members) voted on seven proposals relating to bylaws, four proposals relating to league rules, and two proposals related to tour-

ANDY ANDERSON

Hall of Famer Ron Holt averaged over 231 for 16 games and then tossed a 259 in the title match March 11 to capture the $1,250 top prize and a trophy in Seniors Division of the TNBA Bill Rhodman Classic. ... Joey Havens set a house series record April 4 at Bowl America Falls Church as he recorded games of 289, 300, and 278 for an 867 series in the Falls Church Commercial League. The series eclipsed the previous house record of 863 bowled in 1991. ... League secretaries are reminded that no "entering averages" are to be included on the final averages form -- only actual averages. If, for example, a league member bowls only six games during the season, his pinfall recorded, the six games, and a six-game average are to appear on the form. As always, no nicknames are to be used, and the Bowler ID Number is to be included for each individual listed. Forms must arrive at the association office no later than June 1. After that date, bowlers should visit ncausbca.org to make sure the form for their league has been received.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE • JANE ANDREWS

A few reminders

It's check-in time for your leagues. I hope that everything has gone well and that you have had a successful season up to this point. Just a few reminders:

- ❶. Be sure you have a copy of your approved prize list, and you should also receive a financial statement.
- ❷. League presidents should make sure the secretary has submitted the league final averages before collecting their salary. Also, make sure all awards have been requested. Unfortunately, some secretaries may not have all your awards at the time of payout, but it is still the secretary's obligation to submit all awards to the office. If you have any doubts, please contact the association office. Your awards can be presented to you by your lane representative. If you would like to make these arrangements, please let us know before your league ends.
- ❸. Next year, we want to recognize a league secretary in this association for a job well done. If your secretary meets this criteria, please consider nominating him/her for this award.
- ❹. Keep in mind that we will have our Hall of Fame and Induction Ceremony in October, so please mark your calendars, and join us at this event. Consider nominating a worthy individual. I am certain you have some friends who have made some outstanding achievements in this area as well as know of those individuals who have provided you with meritorious service not only to the adults but also to the youth.
- ❺. Our Youth Championship Tournament has concluded. Check out the prize list and see how well they did. We have some fantastic and upcoming young bowlers out there. Remember, they are our future.
- ❻. Please consider entering our Women's Championship Tournament next year. We want to continue to make it a successful venture.

- ❼. Our Open Championship Tournament, which has just finished, should be on your list of tournaments for next year if you did not have the opportunity to compete.
- ❽. For those rolling seniors, mark your calendars for October 20-21 and 27-28. Applications for our 31st Annual Senior Tournament, to be held at Bowl America Falls Church, will be out later on this year.

ASSISTANT MANAGER'S MEMO • RONALD MCGREGOR

Season's end is critical time for league secretaries

Final averages forms have been mailed/eMailed/delivered to bowling centers for all of the winter leagues. League secretaries: If you have not received your final averages form, please let us know, and we will get one to you. Submit the completed forms to us as soon as your league schedule is complete or by June 1, whichever comes first.

At this time of the year, we receive lots of calls about league issues—prize fund shortages, bowlers in arrears, position round conflicts, etc. I urge you to make a list of these issues so that you can amend your league rules next season to avoid running into the same situation.

Awards: Please do not wait until the week before the end of the league season to send in 100 pages of awards because they will not be filled in time to give your bowlers the awards they worked hard to earn.

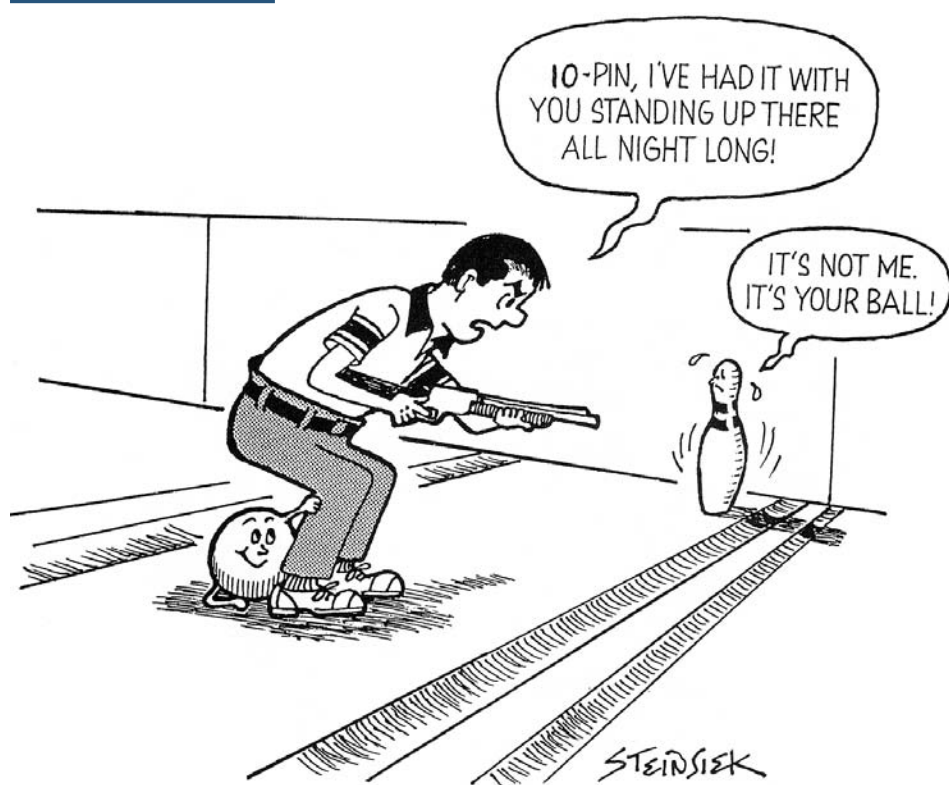

Secretaries: End-of-season award kits have been delivered to the bowling centers, so please check with center management, and let us know if you do not receive your kit.

The 67th Annual Women's Championship Tournament has been completed, and the checks are in the mail. We added a few more optional events this year and saw increased participation as a result and a slight increase in the number of entries.

The 67th Annual Open Championship Tournament recently concluded at Bowl America Shirley (team event) and Woodbridge (singles & doubles). Entries were up this year, so thanks to all those who continue to support the tournament.

NCAUSBCA honored for BVL contributions

USBC

At the recent USBC Annual Meeting in Arlington, Tex., President Jane Andrews (third from left) accepted a plaque on behalf of NCAUSBCA and its members for the association's third-place finish for BVL (The Bowlers to Veterans Link) contributions by a local association for the 2010-2011 season.

More than 150 participants (including those at right) and volunteers gathered at Bowl America Shirley on Feb. 18 for NCAUSBCA's 3rd Annual Bowl for the Cure® Day to raise funds to find a cure for breast cancer. The event featured a survivor recognition ceremony, bowling, door prizes, a raffle, a bake sale, and a silent auction. Representatives from three Prime Sponsors—Jannessa Neher (CDW), Kelvin Haynie (F.I.S.T. Installations), and Stephanie Dyson (Genentech) each rolled out a first ball to kick off the event. Larry Gonzales (LRS, LLC) also demonstrated generous support as a Lane Sponsor. After all activities, reports committee chair Ron Holton, a check for $16,300 was sent to USBC Bowl for the Cure.

HOPE REYNOLDS

"Lucky roll" helps bring Eckles Tournament of Champions victory as junior career winds down

Delayed 2-pin topple leads to 254-248 victory in title match

Needing a strike on his first ball in the tenth frame to keep alive his goal of winning NCAUSBCA's 22nd Annual 600 Club Tournament of Champions March 25 at Bowl America Gaithersburg, Rodney Eckles of Fairfax, Va., got the break of his life. The burly right-hander's toss stayed wide of the pocket 50 feet down the lane. His ball finally turned towards the pocket and caught just a piece of the headpin that went to the wall and returned to the setup, creating a slow egg-beater effect that kept on beating until at last the final pin standing, No. 2, fell forward and then down.

Eckles, now needing seven pins on his first ball to secure the win, nine-spined to emerge a 254-248 victor over two-time Invitational titlist Jason Eman of Springfield, Va., who had applied pressure by closing with eight strikes. Eman's demise, it turned out, was determined by a missed 10-pin in the third frame.

Eckles, who this season has won the 600 Club Winter Doubles with Augie Bransford and a NCAUSBCA team title, answered questions posed by editor Bob Cosgrove after the championship match.

How do you sum up your day?

First of all, I was happy that I made it to the first overall qualifier because my hand just couldn't take it. I've got blisters everywhere; I've got two open wounds in the front and the back parts of my thumb. And that last game, I just wanted to win so I could get first qualifier—and it worked because there was no way I could have been able to bowl any more than just that game.

I saw Michael [Simpson] out there; he was bowling well all day. And then I saw Jason [Eman] getting ready to take the victory, and I wanted to bowl him 100 percent.

There's a big kind of rivalry between me and Jason, so I wanted to bowl Jason for the title. The way it went down, that last shot, I let go of the ball, my fingers just shoot with pain, and then all of a sudden, I get that lucky roll and [the 2-pin] falls down ... and there you have it: I'm champion!

You finished on the right-hand lane. Were there any concerns over your earlier errant shot on that lane?

The one that sailed out and came all the way back? I've been having trouble; I can't hold the ball, so it kinda just depends on how it feels at the bottom of the swing. That time, I felt that pain shoot through it, and I just let it go. But luckily I hit it enough, and it came back and washed out everything. I'm happy.

Is this your last youth title?

This will be my last Tournament of Champions. I will be an adult bowler next year. However, I think this is the last tournament besides state that's coming up pretty soon, which I might not even participate in. It's sad to go, but....

The Invitational didn't go the way I expected [he placed fourth in A Division], but I decided to come out and do something different, worked hard, and I came out and got more consistent, and this is what happened today.

Who works with you on your game?

I work with several people. I haven't worked with my coach, Shawn Goodwin, in a while, the manager at Bowl America Dranesville. He's the person who basically brought me to the next level. I also work with Michael Ayler and Barry Wallace.

Everybody that helps me has knowledge. I feel comfortable with asking them anything I need to know about my game. They worked with me and brought me to here—they brought me as far as they can get me, and now, it's my turn to work at it and go to the next level.

Are you still going to school?

I'm currently in an associate degree program—automotive—over at NOVA [Northern Virginia Community College]. I like cars, so I figure, Why not?

Cars are interesting, although with the new technology coming out, cars are not as mechanical as they used to be; they're more electronic. I like working on cars and getting my hands dirty—that's basically it.

How important is bowling in your life?

I'll be 21 here in December. I've been bowling since I was 4—about 16 years now, about to be 17. I grew up in the bowling alley. My mom and dad bowled on Friday nights, and at first they wouldn't take me because it was one of those leagues that started at 9 [p.m.]. But they knew I liked to bowl, I got into it watching my parents bowl, and ever since then, I lived in the bowling alley.

Working there?

I used to work at Bowl America Fairfax. I think I'm going to switch over to AMF and further my education with working on pinsetters. Other than that, the bowling alley is me.

What are you going to do to celebrate?

Today is actually me and my girlfriend's anniversary—five months—so as soon as I leave here, I'll be headed to Chantilly, and we'll probably sit down and go to dinner and talk about my day. It's been a long day since one o'clock; I've been up since actually 8 [a.m.]. I'm ready to go and relax and probably drink a couple gallons of water.

I felt like I bowled 300 when that pin fell down!

So you're a big water fan?

I love water; there's nothing else. We go out somewhere to eat or whatever, my girlfriend orders a soda; I'll order water, everywhere I go. I usually drink five gallons of water a day, at least. It's part of the reason why ... you see me, I'm a little bit smaller than what you have seen in the past couple of years.

Do you have a goal?

Right now, I'm weighing about 270, and I'm trying to get down to about 210 and get in shape to play some type of football. That's my goal right now—just get healthy.

Football on the weekend?

Honestly, why not give it a shot and get in shape? The NFL is not the only place to go play football, and that's what everybody thinks. They have other [minor] league teams or anything below that. I just want to get in shape and look good, for the future.

Have you played football?

I played football two years. The two

2ND PLACE: Jason Eman's 248 finale included a missed 10-pin in the third frame.

TOURNAMENT REPORT

years that I did play, I was on my way to go to a private school with a full ride but decided to go to high school and play football and probably that was a mistake. I probably should have gone to private school and play football. Now, you watch "Sunday Night Football" and see those big guys out there playing, and I'm like, That could have been me! I could be in college right now playing football on TV, but you live and you learn.

What were you thinking as you began the 10th frame of the final match?

I really didn't know what I scored. I went to look at the screen, but because Jason had already struck, and we all had strikes, I knew I had him by that open [missed 10-pin in frame 3], but I didn't know what would happen if I struck in the beginning or spared in the beginning. I kinda figured I needed that strike.

And in the end, when the 2-pin toppled, you were home safe.

I felt like I bowled 300 when that pin fell down! That's what it felt like. I said, "Ah, man, a bad shot!" It was either gonna go left or just not move at all. It didn't, but it got into that zone, and it knocked everything around.

That was just a sigh of relief when I fell down. I thought I gave it to him—I really did. But they fell, and that's the way it happened.

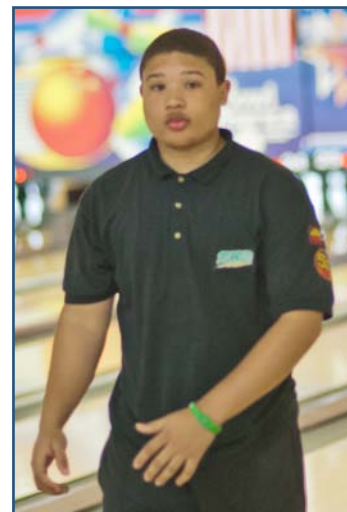

I wanted that Invitational, but this feels good!

3RD PLACE: Michael Simpson rolled 246 and 296 in the stepladder finals before falling to Eman, 255-207.

4TH PLACE: Jarrett DeFalco scored a 184 game against Simpson's 296.

5TH PLACE: Zahir Holmes dropped the opening match to Simpson, 246-183.

ANDREA SHARP

Scores 723 series to lead "BGGs" team to title in Women's Championship Tournament

BIRTHDAY: September 23

CITY OF RESIDENCE: Stafford, Virginia

SOCIAL STATUS: Married with two children, ages 13 and 11

EDUCATION: Schooled in Germany

EARLIEST BOWLING MEMORY: I was 10 years old, and the lightest balls were 10 pounds ... and too heavy for me.

CURRENT BOWLING LEAGUES: Two at AMF Fredericksburg and the Friday Night Mixed at AMF Dale City

OTHER NOTABLE TOURNAMENT ACCOMPLISHMENTS: I won the scratch all events in the Greater Fredericksburg Women's Tournament this year and in 2010.

BEST PART OF MY GAME: My spares—I'm pretty consistent.

WORST PART OF MY GAME: My release—I need to stop "thumbing" it.

WORST OR MOST EMBARRASSING BOWLING MOMENT: Whenever I've fallen on the lanes. I last did it about four years ago.

BEST TACTIC I USE TO HANDLE PRESSURE: I sing a song in my head or I count the steps in my approach.

SPARE-SHOOTER RATING (10 = best / 1 = worst): About 9 to 9.5

www.ncausbca.org

IMPORTANCE OF BOWLING IN MY LIFE (10 = most / 1 = least): 9

MOST IMMEDIATE BOWLING GOAL: Do well in the nationals (USBC Women's Championships)

INTERESTS OUTSIDE OF BOWLING: I'm often a taxi driver for my two children!

FAMOUS LIVING PERSON I MOST ADMIRE: Norm Duke. I really like him.

FIRST THING I'D BUY IF I WON THE LOTTERY: A house in Germany

STRANGE AND UNUSUAL FACT ABOUT ME: I can't pronounce a "W" correctly.

PET PEEVE: People who talk on a cell phone while driving

ONE WORD THAT BEST DESCRIBES ME: Different

BIGGEST PERSONAL REGRET: I wish I had undertaken a different apprenticeship. I worked for the government in Germany, and being born there, I can't do that in this country. I'd been better off studying to be a baker.

The Best Bowling Tip I Ever Received

By Crystal Shaw-Wesby

The best bowling tip I ever received was to add controlled breathing to my approach routine before each shot. I came across this tip approximately eight years ago while reading the book, Focused for Bowling by Dean Hinitz.

In an effort to relax the body as well as the mind, I use an intentional controlled breath as a cueing technique to relax, commit, and go. The breath, however, is not as simple as breathing in through the nose and out the mouth. The technique involves inflating the belly first, next the chest, finally exhaling smoothly, deflating the belly and chest at the same time.

When I first tried the technique, I was surprised that I was instantly able to relax my body. However, once I mastered the technique, I found that I was able to clear my mind of outside distractions and focus on the immediate task at hand—executing a great shot.

Crystal Shaw-Wesby, who rolled the first 800 series in NCAUSBCA Women's Championship Tournament history when she scored 807 to win the 2009 scratch singles event, averaged 235.78 for nine games to capture this year's scratch all events title. She also won the scratch doubles crown with Nichele McConnell.

SHARON BROWN

ASK BOB • BOB KORTH

Repeating shots, knowing when to change balls, and more

Q. I am 68 years old and average 206 in league. Lately, I have been having more and more trouble repeating shots. Also, my speed seems to be getting slower. What changes can I make in my game to help this problem?

A. I know this problem first-hand, as I am a senior bowler myself. I am just about to turn 70 and have gone through all the problems that occur with age.

As we get older, the tendency is standing up too straight at the foul line. This causes a loss of a free armswing and muscling of the ball, slower speed, and a loss of accuracy is the result.

If you are physically able to bend your knees, make an effort to bend your knees slightly more than usual before you start your approach. Also, bend forward at the waist just slightly (both of these bends at about 15 degrees). Then stay down during your approach.

Getting lower will get the ball through the heads cleaner and longer for better accuracy. It will also allow you to have a free armswing for increased ball speed.

Q. With all the bowling balls we carry to league and tournaments, how should we determine when to stick with a certain ball, and when should we change balls?

A. This is a great question. There is no set answer, but there are things to look for.

First, you have to know your equipment and the tendencies of each ball in your arsenal. This is not unlike golf, in which you have a driver and a 7-iron, and you have to know when to use each. However, in bowling, it is not as simple as golf; we have no numbers for the different balls.

So the first thing I do when starting practice is to begin with what I call my benchmark ball. This is the ball you know the best and are most comfortable with. Get a read on the lanes with your benchmark ball, and then fine-tune your reaction at the pins with another of your balls if necessary.

Here is another scenario when a ball change is necessary. You throw the ball, and it leaps through the nose. You make the correct adjustment, and it won't recover and you go light. You are experiencing the dreaded under/over. This is a classic case of the wrong ball for the condition. Change balls immediately. Waiting will just get you further into a hole.

If you are leaving corner pins time after time and making adjustments of speed and approach moves don't help, a ball change could be the answer. The ball change you make is up to you; this is why you have to know what each ball does differently than the other. So use each ball during your practice sessions and make a mental note of how each reacts, or better yet, write notes and keep them in your bag.

Q. I just had a white tracer dot put on my ball at the pro shop. The pro shop operator said it was legal by USBC rules to use in tournament and league play. I just wanted to double-check to make sure before using the ball in competition. Is he correct?

A. Yes, the ball is legal for USBC play. All you did was have it plugged and a plugged ball is allowed in USBC competition. Just don't try to use it in any PBA tournament; plugged balls are not allowed by PBA rules.

Q. I am very slow at reading lanes and especially keeping up with changing conditions during play. What can I go to learn more about lane play?

A. We all hear experience is the best teacher. This is true, but in bowling it takes a long time to learn all the nuances that go into lane play. So one thing you can do to hurry up the process is to go

USBC Coaching adds Registered Volunteer Program to certification process

ARLINGTON, Texas – Beginning this fall, coaches seeking certification at any level through the United States Bowling Congress will have to be approved through the Registered Volunteer Program (RVP). The USBC Coaching Certification and Development team also announced that current coaches will need to be approved through RVP as part of their continuing education process.

"The Registered Volunteer Program simply needs to be a part of the process to certify coaches," said Neil Stremmel, USBC Managing Director, National Governing Body (NGB). "It will benefit coaches because parents and proprietors will know that USBC certified coaches have gone through the proper background screening. It adds integrity to our certification process, the game, and our coaches."

USBC implemented RVP, a background screening program, to help provide a safe environment for USBC Youth members. The program ensures the USBC is doing everything it can to protect youth bowlers. As the NGB for bowling, USBC follows guidelines of the United States Olympic Committee and the USOC launched its SafeSport program earlier this year.

"The USOC has encouraged all NGBs to have programs to ensure athletes have safe training environments," Stremmel said. "We have used RVP with youth volunteers for several years and it is important for us to add this component to all coaches."

Under the new guidelines that take effect Aug. 1, 2012, new coaching candidates will have to be approved through RVP prior to becoming certified. Coaches who will be taking part in upcoming Bronze, Silver, and Gold certification courses have been notified of the new requirement.

For current USBC certified coaches, RVP is now part of the continuing education program. Coaches will need to become approved through RVP by the end of their continuing education period to remain active. Coaches will earn two Continuing Education Units (CEUs) for becoming RVP approved.

Go to BOWL.com/rvp to learn more about the Registered Volunteer Program and go to BOWL.com/coaching for information on coaching certification.

to a coach and tell him or her your goal of learning lane play. Most coaches can help you with a plan to learn lane play much faster than you can learn it on your own.

Another thing you can do is to ask the best bowlers in your town or area. The best players love to talk about the game; most will be eager to tell you how they learned what they know and how they do what they do. This will save you years of time by using knowledge of others.

An added plus is that different bowlers get to the same conclusions in different ways. You will be able to pick and choose the methods that work best for you.
