Pay early, earn rewards at 2014 USBC Open and Women's Championships

ARLINGTON, Texas – Teams entering the 2014 United States Bowling Congress Open and Women's Championships will be eligible for some great rewards just for signing up early.

Each member of teams paid in full by July 1, 2013, will receive $20 in Championships Cash upon check-in at their respective tournaments in Reno, Nev., in 2014.

The vouchers can be used toward Bowling Ball Express, year-long brackets products, merchandise at the USBC SportStore or at any of the USBC-run side tournaments being held in conjunction with the USBC Open and Women's Championships.

As an added bonus, Open Championships bowlers who meet the July 1 deadline and register for a 10:30 p.m. doubles and singles squad will earn a $55 rebate as part of their prize checks, essentially bowling singles for free.

"We have so many dedicated bowlers and team captains," said Brian Lewis, USBC Managing Director of Tournaments. "This rewards program is a way for us to show our appreciation for their continued support of our tournaments."

The 2014 Open Championships will be held at Reno's National Bowling Stadium. The cost for each bowler is $55 per event and $15 for all-events for a total entry fee of $180. Registration already is under way.

The 2014 Women's Championships will be held at the Reno-Sparks Convention Center, and registration also is under way. The event will feature four-player teams for the first time, a new divisional structure, and an all-scratch format.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE • ROBERT ASHLEY III

Silver linings in the clouds of change

Most leagues are wrapping up in the coming weeks. It's never too late to start planning for next season, so be sure to speak out at your end-of-season payout meetings.

Since the Annual Meeting, some changes were announced at the national level. There have been mixed reactions to them and, while I understand the reasons, nothing we do or say is going to change what is happening. We need to focus on how these changes can benefit us.

I've been a secretary for over 20 years, and each league has shown a different reaction to the special achievement awards. By vesting the control of these with the local association, we have the opportunity to establish an awards and/or recognition program that better meets what you would like to see.

Please take some time to express your thoughts. We may not be able to please everyone, but if a common thread emerges from your comments, it can help guide us in preparing a program.

Our annual Open Championship Tournament recently concluded. I had the pleasure of working at the team house and saw a new women's series record posted, smashing the previous record by 51 pins. If you did not participate, I hope you give thought to being part of next year's event.

If you have any questions or comments, I can be reached via eMail at president@ncausbca.org.

The summer league season is upon us. May you strike out often and be spared of any splits.

The total cost for a four-player team at the Women's Championships will be $560. Entering by mail, fax, or phone will require an additional $10 processing fee per team and $10 for each doubles/singles set.

Group coordinators for 2014 also will enjoy a few additional incentives.

Open Championships coordinators with eight teams, and Women's Championships coordinators with six teams, will receive a complimentary VIP package. Also, doubles and singles times for their groups are guaranteed, so there is no need to worry about the group being split up.

June 1 deadline for league final averages

The 2012-2013 bowling season is almost over, and if you're like me, you're glad to see it end so that you can enjoy some summer activities.

League Secretaries:

➤ We as always urge you to get the final averages into the office on or before June 1, as this will give us enough time to get the Annual Averages books printed and delivered to your centers in time for the 2013-2014 league season. Send me an eMail if you wish to receive an electronic final average form. Please be sure to provide a Bowler ID Number and "Pins-Games-Average" totals for every bowler, even those who may have subbed just one time. Mark "L" or "R" (Left or Right) in the "Hand" column on the form only if the bowler used the hand he/she did not normally use, such as due to injury. Otherwise, leave that area blank.

➤ Don't forget about the Triple Crown awards to be given to the male and/or female member with the league high game, series, and average—all three achievements.

➤ As a reminder, or perhaps it is news, membership cards purchased in the summer season are only good for this summer and will expire on July 31, 2013. (See page 14.)

ASK BOB • BOB KORTH

Staying sharp over the summer; “over/under”; following through

Q. I am shutting down bowling for the summer. How can I do this but maintain some sort of game for next season?

A. Don't shut down completely; you don't have to bowl every day, but try to go once a week at least. It will keep your mental and physical game in some order.

Also, remember summer is a great time to get to know your arsenal. Without the pressure of league or tournaments, you can better learn your equipment and plug the holes in your arsenal with a couple of new balls and at a better price. Bowling equipment is on sale in the summer during the times of less demand.

Summer is also a great time for lessons.

Q. What is the meaning of the term “over/under”?

A. “Over/under” occurs when you throw the ball and get immediate and violent hook, and then on the next shot, you try to adjust, and the ball just hangs and seemingly does not even begin to hook. No matter what you do, this “over/under” reaction keeps happening.

Over/under can take place for a variety of reasons. You may just need to use a ball with a different surface. It could be that you are playing the wrong part of the lane or that your timing is off and causing you to turn the ball early. In fact, early turn is one of the most common reasons for under/over, right next to ball surface.

These are the most common fixes. If you are still having problems, get a coach to help you.

Q. My teammates have been telling me I that I am not following through. Is there something I can do to remember to follow through?

A. Before beginning your approach, do some mental imaging. Picture yourself finishing at the line with a perfect follow-through. Then, when you get to the release point, picture a nail in the ceiling. The nail is sticking out and needs to be driven into the ceiling. You drive it into the ceiling with your thumb.

This will help to make you follow through every time.

Mark Miller's Bowling well worth your time

Bowling by Mark Miller. Copyright 2012 by Shire Publications. 64 pages. ISBN-13: 978-0747811367. $9.95 at amazon.com

By Karen Jost

Sportswriter and bowling historian Mark Miller recently published an historical account of the sport, Bowling. The book is a concise yet detailed description of the evolution of America's greatest indoor pastime. A variety of historical and contemporary photos throughout enhance and reinforce the content, making it an easy read for bowling and non-bowling fans alike.

Miller begins with a discussion of contemporary bowling in America and describes four levels of participation in the sport: open play, leagues, tournament, and elite. He goes on to describe the continued existence of variations of bowling in New England and the Mid-Atlantic states known as candlepins and duckpins. By far, however, tenpins is the most prevalent form of bowling throughout the country today.

While nobody knows exactly when bowling began, Miller tells of potential beginnings in the Stone Age, findings in Egypt (dated 3200 B.C.), and the gradual movement of various forms of kegling from Europe to the United States in the early 1600s. Early bowlers used implements such as rocks, balls, bones, and wooden discs to knock down their targets.

Miller recounts the development of organized bowling in America, including membership organizations such as the National Bowling Association (TNBA), the American Bowling Congress (ABC), the Women's International Bowling Congress (WIBC), and the American Junior Bowling Congress (subsequently known as the Young American Bowling Alliance). As organizers of America's greatest indoor pastime, membership restrictions in ABC and WIBC paralleled America's history of limiting participation of non-whites and females and ultimately allowed participation by all Americans. He describes the evolution of bowling into the modern era, including the boom in league participation between World War II through the 1970s and popular bowling programs on television, including "Celebrity Bowling," "Jackpot Bowling," and "Make That Spare."

Finally, Miller discusses the growth in technology and identifies a variety of circumstances that likely contributed to the decline in league bowling participation. Despite this decline, bowling is one of the fastest-growing high school sports, and youth bowling and collegiate programs are offering more scholarships than ever.

Miller's overall treatment of the history of America's greatest indoor pastime is well worth your time.

Karen Jost, a USBC board member, is NCAUSBCA second vice president.

Special Olympics athlete scores 298 at Bowl America Manassas

A Special Olympics Tournament involving athletes from Prince William County held April 20 at Bowl America Manassas contained more excitement and interest than usual when spectators and some of the competing athletes began to recognize that one of the participants had rolled only strikes as the final frame approached. As 22-year-old Lenny Codella stepped onto the approach for a chance at perfection, the excitement was palpable as the building became quiet and still, reported center manager Kay Shafer, who added that cheers erupted as Codella proceeded to roll two more strikes.

As he began his final toss, Codella clearly realized what was at stake, for his knees were shaking. His delivery resulted in two pins standing for a final score of 298.

As he walked off of the approach, Codella at first expressed disappointment but then joy, as bowlers and specators alike suddenly began screaming, "Lenny! Lenny! Lenny!"

Avoid paying twice!

As a result of an amendment passed at last year's USBC Annual Meeting, the 2013 summer league season will be the first during which individuals who purchase a USBC membership will not be able to use their membership card for 2013-2014 fall leagues/tournaments and/or 2014 summer leagues/tournaments. The expiration date for memberships purchased now until the fall season is July 31, 2013.

All 2012-2013 members who plan to bowl in a 2013-2014 fall league are advised to wait until the fall league to purchase a new card to avoid having to pay twice.

DEADWOODS

Unlocking the mind

By Malcolm James

I can't tell you how many times I performed poorly in a tournament, and yet on the drive home, I could go on and on about what I did wrong. So what was missing? Bowling is a game of consistency and repetition regarding the physical game, but I lacked the most crucial part needed to compete at the higher levels: the mental game.

Allowing your mental game to grow requires practice, just like your physical game. I often see young bowlers who can throw one bad shot, and their game is gone. They don't have a strong mental game to put that frame behind them so they can make the best of the frames that lie ahead.

I would recommend working on your mental game with your local USBC-Certified Coach. There are a number of drills and techniques that can help you deal with everything from distractions to managing your nerves. As a member of the self-proclaimed NCAUSBCA Jr. Dream Team, I can say this has been the single greatest asset I have.

"Your mind is the greatest computer. Your body is the greatest machine."

— Fred Borden, former head coach of Team USA

coming league organization meeting for the 2013-2014 season.

The NCAUSBCA Women's and Open Championship tournaments for this season are over, and, while we focus on the former in this issue, the prize listings for both events will appear on this site. This year, the Sports Plus/Carmen Don Pro Shop generously added $1,000 to each tournament for the newly created 55+ Handicap Singles and 55+ Handicap All Events prize categories. If you were unable to bowl with us this time, I hope you will put it in your plans for next year.
