USBC BOARD KEEPS
PRE-PANDEMIC
DELEGATE COUNTS

The United States Bowling Congress Board of Directors approved two resolutions that allow delegate representation for annual association meetings to be based on membership from the 2018-2019 season. The first resolution for the 2022 USBC Annual Meeting maintains historical representation across the country by using 2018-2019 membership totals for delegate counts. The second resolution allows USBC state associations the option to use either 2018-2019 or 2020-2021 membership totals to determine delegate counts at their annual meetings. Due to the coronavirus pandemic, significantly varying standards of federal, state, and local orders impacted bowling center operations. As a result, USBC membership in the 2019-2020 and the 2020-2021 seasons does not accurately reflect the historical membership for some USBC associations. These resolutions were passed to accurately and fairly determine delegate representation for 2022 annual meetings. The USBC Board has authority to temporarily suspend or amend the USBC Bylaws to address issues related to a pandemic. The 2022 USBC Annual Meeting will be held at The Orleans Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas from April 25-28.

NEW HALL OF FAME
POLICY, TAKE 2

Last issue, NCAUSBCA announced a new Hall of Fame policy whereby Bowling Achievement nominees must have competed in at least three of the past five NCAUSBCA championship tournaments. Some readers did not understand that the policy applies only to NCAUSBCA members and only during the existence of NCAUSBCA (since 2006). It does not apply to any NCABA or WDCAWBA bowling.

BRIEFLY....

Dean Ryan

NCAUSBCA Hall of Famer Dean Ryan died on October 26. Ryan, who managed The Lanes Fort Meade from 1996 to 2011, was a strong supporter of youth bowling as well as high-level bowling, hosting five PBA East Regional and six PBA Senior East Regional tournaments. He was a member of the Hall of Fame "Class of 2013." ... Director Phyllis Bourque again this season set a standard for BVL collections, recently submitting $1,740 from members at AMF Waldorf. Leagues contributing included Thursday Mixers ($302), Tuesday AM Mixed ($255), Pinefield Mixed ($202), Winky Strine Memorial ($202), Monday Mixers ($195), Sunday Mixers ($152), Inez Golden Keglers ($151), Pins & Pitchers ($116), Friday Friends ($80), and Sunday Survivors ($75).

Final policy revisions to USBC SMART program announced

ARLINGTON, Texas – The United States Bowling Congress has approved final policy revisions for its Scholarship Management and Account Reporting for Tenpins (SMART) program. The policy includes revisions based on a comment period earlier this year. In April 2021, the USBC proposed a series of policy changes designed to increase scholarship benefits for SMART Recipients. All proposals were open for a comment period until June 30. After reviewing the feedback from webinars and submitted comments, the final policy was approved by the Oversight Committee and USBC Board of Directors. The final policy maintains the proposed concept of allocating a portion of future investment gains and expired scholarships directly to SMART Recipient accounts by providing additional scholarships for those actively using SMART funds and creating a new SMART Recipient grant program.

Our tournaments are back

I am happy to say that tournament bowling has made somewhat of a return to normalcy as more bowlers have felt comfortable with bowling tournaments and relaxed COVID restrictions, allowing us to schedule events. We started our tournament campaign with the 39th Annual Senior Tournament recently held at Bowl America Fairfax. I, like a few of my friends, found a way to throw some new lows, and things bowling as we try to make up for lost time when bowling was for the most part shut down. We only had 5,000 members last season, compared to 15,000 the previous season. So far this season, we are a little over 9,000.

We lost a fair number of bowlers due to complications from COVID, and the recovery has been slow. However, whether it is due to the vaccination campaign or whatever

We have an impressive lineup of tournaments that will take us through December of 2022.

after some good-natured kidding, I realized I was glad to be able to bowl and have fun with my friends once again.

The NCAUSBCA 11th Annual Mixed Tournament in Support of BVL is up next at Bowl America Shirley the first three weekends in December. It looks even more promising in that some squads were sold out before the entry deadline. As a reminder, this event supports our treasured veterans.

We have an impressive lineup of tournaments that will take us through December of 2022. This season's Open and Women's tournaments allow you to enter and pay for your team and doubles entries using a credit/debit card. All the information regarding these events and more can be found on our site and on our Facebook page.

This is a busy season for all the reason, it looks like we are headed in the right direction.

Keep on bowling, folks. It was a bit of a struggle for me getting back into the game after a year of sitting on the couch, but I am enjoying myself even with the odd/rare 499 set followed by a 491.

Meanwhile, most of our office time during the first months of the 2021-2022 season has been used to process league certification applications. All applications received have been processed, so now our main focus is on award applications. Members who have qualified for NCAUSBCA awards should soon see them at your center.

15 QUESTIONS

Greg Turner

NCAUSBCA Hall of Famer Greg Turner of Temple Hills, Md., became a PBA champion on September 1, 2021 by defeating Darryl Bower of Middletown, Pa., 216–214 in the PBA60 Kingsport Convention & Visitors Bureau Open in Kingsport, Tenn. For some, the final frame undoubtedly brought back memories of the 1995 Bayer/Brunswick Touring Players Championship title contest between Randy Pedersen and Ernie “I don’t believe it!” Schlegel.

At the recent NCAUSBCA Senior Tournament at Bowl America Fairfax, Turner, after continuing his excellent bowling, answered several questions posed by editor Bob Cosgrove.

What was your outlook coming into that PBA60 tournament?

The month before, I had bowled on that same [Dick Weber] pattern, and I thought I had a good look, but it didn’t pan out, so I went home and picked up some balls and came back to that same pattern. I was looking for a better outlook and outcome. Did I think I was going to win it? Not in the beginning, no. I thought I would have to throw a lot of strikes, but luckily I did, so it worked out.

What went through your mind as you prepared to bowl for the title?

Just trying to make the same shots I’ve made all day because during warm-up, I saw had a good look, so I was just trying to make the shots I’ve been making and stay with the game plan.

What’s it like to win your first PBA Senior regional title?

It was very exciting, emotional. All of the hard work that I know I’ve done. I’ve always wanted to be a PBA player, and to be a champion, that was really great, very exciting.

What’s been the reaction from people after your victory?

They’ve been excited for me. For some reason, they think I’m carrying the banner for the Black people, so they’ve been excited. They’ve given me love, so I appreciate that. Everybody kept saying that they expected me to do that—if I ever got out there and got a chance, they knew it was coming.

Can it be said your title match with Darryl Bower had a most interesting ending?

Yes, I felt sorry for him because he actually bowled well, and that shot was a great shot when he left that (solid) 8-pin. And I’ll never be mad with the 8-pin again!

He needed a double to win, and he got the first one. I thought when I didn’t strike, he was going to throw all three in the tenth—I just knew it. But luckily, it didn’t happen.

Bower is a really nice guy. I felt bad for him, and I gave him his props when I took my seat.

I’ve always wanted to be a PBA player, and to be a champion, that was really great, very exciting.

How does this win rank among your bowling moments?

The greatest—without any question.

A dream come true?

I’m living the dream, believe me.

How does your victory affect your thinking about yourself as a bowler?

I don’t think it has changed any. I still think I’m pretty good. I probably could be better. I still have a lot of stuff to learn. The guys don’t tell me much out there, but I’ve have gotten a couple of tips from a couple of guys. It’s been okay. I expect to win again.

Was there ever any doubt that a victory in PBA competition would occur?

Yes. I joined [the PBA] last year, and I was about ready to quit before this tournament because I thought I couldn’t figure it out. Everybody kept pushing me, saying, “Man, you can do it. You can do it.” So I just stayed with it. I feel better now.

How did you celebrate your victory?

I really haven’t, I guess. I was kinda like in shock, so the wife drove most of the way back home until I could calm down. We haven’t really celebrated; we’re just look forward to the next one.

What bowling balls did you use?

Hammer Obsession Tour, which I used almost exclusively. I tried to change, but nothing else looked good, so I kept that ball in my hand and used it for the entire tournament.

And for your spare ball?

Just a regular spare plastic ball—the Radical Spare Ball.

How do people react when they learn you bowl with a 14-pound ball?

Besides you, nobody’s really thought about it. A lot of people know, and when I tell people, it’s no big deal. You’re the only one who makes a big deal about it!

Who services your bowling equipment?

Adonis Taylor—“Pooh”—at World Class Pro Shop. I can tell him what I want, and I don’t even have to be there. We’ve been working together for a long time, so he was excited. We’ve been going through layouts and stuff.

Who are your strongest competitors in the area?

Ron Holt, Bobby Hall [II] ... we battle a lot. I would say those two on the senior level. I don’t really play much with the young guys anymore.

The Best Bowling Tip I Ever Received

By Roger Rowley

While working with PBA Senior Tour member and Rowl Rite staffer Don Sylvia, we had many conversations about bowling and equipment. He was talking to me one day about commitments and focus that you have to have at high-level events. One of the many bowling tips he told me that sticks in my mind the most and I have used for many years can also be used in many situations.

Don said that when you're bowling in a tournament and have to make an adjustment, whether it's a line change, a ball change, or even changing your wrist position, you have to fully believe in the change and commit to it, both mentally and physically. You cannot have any doubts about whether it will work. He said that if you have doubts, you can't fully commit to the shot, and if you don't fully commit to the shot, you're cheating yourself.

Bowling is a game of constant adjustments, he added, and every competitor is doing it, too. All bowlers make adjustments, but not all bowlers fully commit to them—the good ones do.

I've used this thought process for years, especially as of late. The adjustments you make aren't always the right ones, but if you truly believe it's right and commit to it, then you'll put forth your full effort.

Don made the point by saying that when you're bowling in an event and have the front eight, you take your time, you stay into the shot longer, you focus on your target more, you breathe right, etc. That's the same focus and commitment you have to give to your new adjustments.

Roger Rowley was elected to the NCAUSBCA Hall of Fame in 2020.

Teen Masters is Going Global

Bowl Canada will be a part of the first Teen Masters North American Championships in Detroit 2022 will be a milestone year for Gary Beck’s Teen Masters for several reasons. Not only is it the Silver Jubilee, but the event will launch a long-planned international initiative by including Canadian teens in the Championships at De-troit’s historic Thunderbowl Lanes July 31–August 5, 2022.

The Canadian bowling center proprietors’ group, Bowl Canada, has pledged to send a minimum of four girls and four boys to the 2022 Teen Masters North American Championships. Qualifying will be held in provinces throughout Canada to determine its teen representatives in Detroit.

“Teen Masters is a great brand, and we’re proud to be working with Killer ‘B’ Promotions on this event,” said Paul Oliveira, Bowl Canada’s Executive Director. “This will elevate our Youth

Bowl Canada (YBC) scholarship offerings and allow our young bowlers to experience exciting international competition. While we enter the scene for the first time by participating in this special 25th Anniversary edition of the championships, we look forward to being a part of its success for the next 25 years and beyond.”

Since the Teen Masters began in Akron, Ohio, in 1997, thousands of teen bowlers have experienced the challenges and joys of one of bowl-ing’s most prestigious youth tournaments. Teens and their families from five continents have traveled to Teen Masters over the years, and with this support, event founder Gary Beck is ready to go to the next level by providing a new worldwide stage.

In the coming years, contingent on easing travel restrictions and sponsorship, Teen Masters will stage global championships for teen girls and boys representing four regions:

REGION 1 – North America, including the United States and Canada.

REGION 2 – Latin America, including the Caribbean, Central America, Mexico, and South America.

REGION 3 – Europe, plus Africa and the Mediterranean.

REGION 4 – Asia-Pacific and the Middle East.

“Partnering with Bowl Canada is a significant step in formalizing international participation in Teen Masters. Working through its member centers, we will identify Canada’s top teens while inspiring the next generation of competitive youth bowlers,” said Beck.

Qualifying for the 2022 Teen Masters North American Championships will begin in January and continue into May. Interested bowlers who will be 19 or younger on August 5, 2022, should visit TeenMastersBowling.com. US bowling centers interested in hosting a qualifying tournament to determine USA representatives in the Championships are invited to eMail Gary Beck at garyb@killerbpromotions.com.
