

JOLITA PERRY

Jolita Perry began supporting youth bowling about a dozen years ago after watching the first of her two children, then only three years old, participate in a league at Bowl America Woodbridge. She could see that help was needed out on the lanes and thus became a "self-appointed" assistant. Perry enjoyed watching the kids' reactions after helping them, and that inspired her to take a class and become a certified youth coach. Today, she and her husband, Nelson (see page 21), serve as the center's youth directors and oversee 11 different youth leagues.

Perry, who herself competes in the Merchant's Mixed league at Bowl America Woodbridge, and who appears below with her daughter, Attira, recently took time to tell us some of her favorites.
