Daniel Edwards: "I think I did very well; I just couldn't finish the job. The 7-pin was a big problem. It's not really a problem; it's just one of those days."

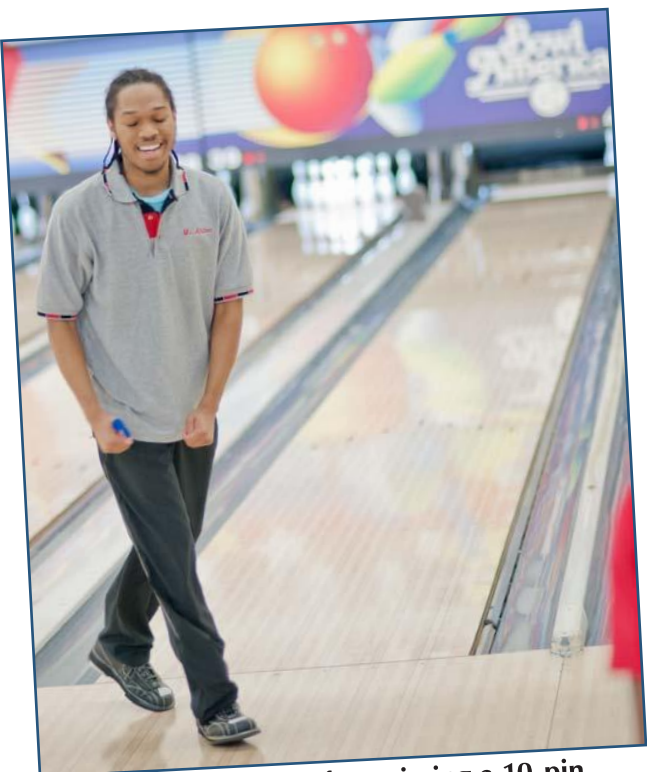

Jarrett DeFalco: "I feel if I would have carried a little better, I probably would have come in at least second. But overall, I'm proud of myself for how good I did."

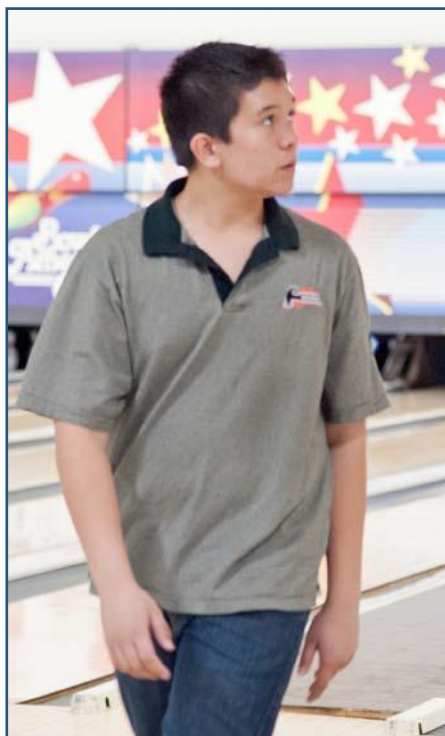

Jimmy Dunseath's title dreams die after missing a 7-pin late in the final match. Below, he extends his hand to champion Richie Hercules.
